SUSTAINABLE FIBER INNOVATION: SULOCHANA COTTON SPINNING MILLS' PET BOTTLE YARN JOURNEY

Recycling has become a prominent focus in the textile industry, with exciting breakthroughs making headlines. One company at the forefront of sustainable innovation is Sulochana Cotton Spinning Mills, based in Tirupur. Known for their pioneering efforts in PET bottle and post-industrial waste recycling, as well as their commitment to sustainable production, Sulochana is shaping a greener future in the textile industry. In an exclusive interview with S. Krishna Kumar, Managing Director, and Girish, Head of Sustainability, we delve into the company's history, product range, sustainability initiatives, and future plans.

The Sulochana Group's eventful journey dates back to 1938 when it began as a cotton trading unit. "We are now a fourth-generation business. We had humble beginnings as cotton traders with our own gin and press, sending our cotton to Gujarat. We were considered frontrunners in the field back then. Due to our experience in the cotton industry, we ventured into spinning mill operations in 1990, with Sulochana Cotton Spinning Mills," stated Krishna Kumar.

AIR-JET SPINNING AT A NEW LEVEL WITH RIETER'S J 70

The new Rieter air-jet spinning machine J 70 with individually automated, independent spinning units and optimized technology components enables the production of high-quality yarns with maximum efficiency. Together with the excellent raw-material yield and low energy requirements, spinning mill owners can benefit from low yarn conversion costs. With the J 70, spinning mills are ideally positioned to exploit the growth potential in standard and blended air-jet yarns.

Air-jet yarn can be made from a wide range of fibers such as cotton, polyester, and viscose, making it suitable for a variety of applications.

In combination with the high productivity, the unique yarn characteristics such as low hairiness and low pilling tendency will contribute to strong growth of this segment in the coming years. The air-jet spinning machine J 70 is the ideal solution for spinning mills – it is characterized by low conversion costs, low energy consumption and high raw material utilization

Each spinning unit is now individually automated and thus independent, enabling maximum efficiency and flexibility.

CMAI CELEBRATES 60TH ANNIVERSARY – HONOURS INDUSTRY STALWARTS AND PARTNERS

In a scintillating and yet emotionally charged evening, the Clothing Manufacturers Association of India (CMAI) celebrated its 60th anniversary by recognising and applauding Industry Stalwarts who have played a pivotal role in CMAI's journey towards its current position of prominence.

At a glittering function in Mumbai, CMAI bestowed the prestigious CMAI ICON

Award and the Loyal Partner Award upon 14 Stalwarts, 12 Service Partners and Vendors, and 2 pillars of the CMAI Secretariat.

Founded in 1963, CMAI has come a long way over the past six decades, evolving into a force to be reckoned within the Indian Apparel industry. However, it is not just the efforts of the present team that have brought CMAI to its current state of prominence, but the collective efforts of the past Committee Members and other volunteers over the years. The Association recognised and paid homage to 14 of these patrons, individuals who may have chosen to remain in the background but whose dedication, and commitment have been instrumental in shaping CMAI's journey. Moreover, the evening was also dedicated to partners who have stood by CMAI throughout its journey. Twelve service partners and vendors, some of whom have been associated with the CMAI for an impressive 30 years, were also honoured and recognised.
